

WILL READ MESSAGE TO JOINT SESSION ON NEXT TUESDAY

Democratic Leaders in Congress and Members of Cabinet Approve

LEAVES CONGRESS TASK

President Wilson Leaves to Congress the Task of Framing the Detail Remedies

ANNOUNCES 3 NEW FEATURES

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—President Wilson announced today that he would read his message on anti-trust reform to a joint session of both houses of congress Tuesday. The president already has shown the document to Democratic leaders in congress and members of the congressional committees in charge of the legislation and to members of the cabinet. All have expressed approval.

The president has left to congress the task of framing the detail remedies. Besides the provision for an interstate trade commission the prohibition of interlocking directorates and reduction of the "debtable area of the Sherman law," there are three hitherto unannounced features.

The plan:

1. The prohibition of holding companies. Corporations would be forbidden to own or hold shares or be interested in the business of actual competitors or cognate concerns, and the acquisition of stock or interests in non-competitive concerns would be possible only with the consent of the interstate commerce committee or the proposed interstate trade commission.

2. Empowering the interstate commerce commission to regulate and supervise the issuance of securities by the railroads so that the public would exercise, through the commission a certain control over the future uses to which the money obtained from the issue of stocks or bonds would be put.

3. Whenever at the instance of the government either in civil or criminal proceedings the courts have rendered judgment on the unlawfulness of any combination, individuals or concerns aggrieved and not be required in their suits to prove again the illegality of the combination.

Advocates Public Hearings.
The president has dealt with the general principle on which he believes public sentiment is agreed that production is necessary. He has emphasized that a spirit of friendliness rather than hostility should characterize the method of approaching the work of reform. To this end, the president, himself, it was learned today, is behind the announced program of public hearings on the proposed bills.

The president is anxious too, that in the legislation ample time should be given in all cases for business to adjust itself to new conditions, even to a period of from one to two years.

In line with the idea that public opinion is more or less agreed on certain principles, the president considers the prohibition of holding companies as a vital part of the program. He believes, that beginning with the decision by the United States supreme court in the Northern Securities case holding companies have come under the ban of public disapproval.

UNION BARS WOMEN.

New York, Jan. 17.—The Amateur Athletic union, in a mail vote completed today, decided by an overwhelming majority to refuse registration to women in all sports and competition controlled by the association. This bars women from the competing or given athletic exhibitions in open games or meets where men or boys are entered.

LONG SEARCH FAILS TO LOCATE SUNKEN BRITISH SUB-MARINE

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Jan. 17.—An all-day search by a fleet of torpedo boats to which were attached cables to sweep the bottom of White Sand Bay, failed to locate the sunken British submarine "A-7." When darkness fell the commanding officer reluctantly ordered the vessels to return to their moorings.

Although hope of any of the crew being alive was long ago given up—six hours being the maximum time they could breathe after the ship sank—the search will be renewed at daylight. The search has been made more difficult by the fact that the buoy which the parent ship placed when the submarine was missed, was driven out to sea and it is believed the submarine itself drifted and probably lies at a depth of thirty

FEDERATION LEADERS EXPECTED TO RETURN

WILL BE CONSIDERED FUGITIVES FROM JUSTICE UNLESS THEY RETURN

Houghton County Authorities Expect President Moyer and Other Officials of Western Federation of Miners to Voluntarily Return For Trial on January 26.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 17.—Charles R. Moyer, president and the six other officials of the Western Federation of Miners, who are under indictment here for conspiracy, will be considered fugitives from justice, by Houghton county prosecutors unless they return voluntarily to the state to stand trial.

"I believe these men are guilty as charged and I consider it my duty to have them brought back here for trial under the indictment," said George E. Nichols, the special prosecutor tonight.

Mr. Nichols expressed the opinion that the federation leaders would return of their own accord but he made it plain that the full power of the state's legal machinery would be brought into play if necessary, to produce them in court on January 26, when the thirty one striking copper miners indicted jointly with them are formally arraigned.

All of the strikers who have been arrested here under the one conspiracy charge, appeared today before Judge O'Brien and gave bonds for their appearance at the next term of court.

Before nightfall all the strikers, including four men indicted on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, had been released from custody.

The special grand jury spent the day in secret session considering the deposition of Moyer and Charles Tanner from the copper district on the night of December 26. Adjournment was taken until Monday without any indictments on this phase of the strike being returned.

After Cruse had reported to him that he had served virtually all the conspiracy warrants, except those against union leaders who had left the state, Prosecutor Nichols set to work looking up authorities to determine the legal status of the absent men. He reached the decision that they could be brought back as fugitives from justice on a misdemeanor charge. It was his announced intention, however, to ascertain by telegraph whether the men were willing to return voluntarily before he instituted extradition proceedings.

Forty nine strike-breakers arrived in the district today from Chicago and went to work in the Apneek & Allouez mines which are operated by the Calumet and Hecla company.

Thirty men including a few strikers, started to work in the Osceola, another Calumet and Hecla mine which the company says is now operating its normal force.

SWEDEN AND NORWAY PROTEST COLD STORAGE BILL

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Sweden and Norway protested to congress today through the state department against provisions of the McKellar cold storage bill pending in the house commerce committee which will begin hearings Feb. 4. They were referred to a sub-committee.

The Swedish legation pointed out that Sweden exports salt and preserved fish on a large scale and protested against the proposal to limit storage to two months. The Norwegian protest said Norway's salt fish trade also would be embarrassed.

BILL WOULD CREATE AGRICULTURAL CAPITAL

WOULD BRING CO-OPERATION AMONG FARMERS INSTEAD OF COMPETITION

Measure Introduced by Senator Borah Would Create an Agricultural Clearing House to be Run by Farmers Under Government Charter—Memorial Scores Government.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Co-operation among the farmers instead of competition, that "the farmer may receive the whole of the consumer's dollar for his product instead of 35 to 45 per cent, as is now the case," is the aim of a bill introduced today by Senator Borah to create an agricultural capital, or clearing house to be run by the farmers under government charter or subsidy. The bill would furnish machinery for scientific marketing and standardization of farm products under direction of a country-wide organization of producers irrespective of any government control. It created quite a stir in the senate, Senator Borah explaining later that he had not written the measure, but had introduced it together with a memorial at the request of E. H. Rettig, a farmer of Opportunity, Washington.

In the memorial, Rettig, submitted that the farmers were neglected by the government and he made the declaration that the "big trusts" had done more good for the public than the government.

Asserting that competition is the mother of waste, Mr. Rettig said, "the law of business success is co-operation."

"Think of the stupidity of our national government," he continued, "encouraging its citizens to produce wealth and after it has been produced insisting on these same citizens contending against each other for possession of the things they have produced."

"I am going to venture the assertion that the Standard Oil Company, International Harvester Company, the Steel Trust and other so-called trusts, the government and real Samaritan service for the benefit of the masses than our government."

Fight Takes New Turn.
The fight among house Democrats over the proposed exemption of 2,400 assistant postmasters from civil service as proposed in the post-office appropriation bill, took a new turn today when Chairman Moon of the postoffice committee introduced a new rule to include an annual $25,000,000 and good roads appropriation in the measure and provide for the passage of the whole bill, carry $330,000,000 under a suspension of the rules.

The rule is expected to be favorably reported. Those contending for the exemption of the assistant postmasters count on the good roads advocates for support.

Amendment Now in Effect.
In deciding today that Blair Lee, Democrat of Maryland, should be seated as United States senator to succeed Senator Jackson, Republican and that Frank P. Glass of Alabama is not to be seated to succeed the late Senator Johnson the senate committee on elections determined that the seventeenth amendment is now in full effect; that no supplemental legislation by state legislatures is necessary and that the governor of the state has authority to call a special election where machinery for such an election exists.

The senate will pass upon the committee's report Monday.

No Work on Saturdays.
President Wilson today returned to his program of banishing official business on Saturdays. He played golf in the forenoon but instead of taking a long automobile ride as had been his custom on Saturday afternoons, he attended a matinee performance of a musical comedy, accompanied by his youngest daughter, Miss Eleanor Wilson and Secretary Tumulty.

Little Opposition Develops.
Little opposition to the agricultural extension bill developed in today's debate in the senate and Senator Hoke Smith in charge of the bill announced he would seek a vote next week.

Nomination Formally Reported.
The nomination of John Skelton Williams to be comptroller of the currency and as such ex-officio member of the federal reserve bank board, was favorably reported to the senate late today by the banking and currency committee. It went over until Monday for consideration.

Must Make Returns for Year.
Individuals whose net income from March 1st, 1913 to December 31st, 1913, was $2,500 or more must make returns of their annual net income for the year, according to a regulation issued today by the treasury department. The tax for 1913 is assessed only for the ten months mentioned. Hereafter only persons having incomes of $3,000 or more must make returns.

REPUBLICAN CLUB DISCUSSES ERADICATION OF RACE PREJUDICE

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Race prejudice and its eradication were the topics discussed at the second of the season's Saturday luncheons of the Republican club here today. Discrimination against the Jew, Japanese, Chinese and negro was taken up respectively by Rev. Dr. Samuel Schuman, rabbi of Temple Beth-El, Dr. Toyokichi Iyemaga, professor of history in the University of Chicago; Professor H. C. Mel, secretary of the China society of America and Butler R. Wilson of Boston.

BREAK BETWEEN GEN. HUERTA AND CATHOLIC PARTY IS EXPECTED

Serious Break Is Feared as Result of the Summary Treatment of Somellera

END IS NOT FAR AWAY

Friends of Pres. Huerta Are Convinced the End Is Not Far Away and Renew Their Efforts

URGE ARCHBISHOP TO ACTION

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17.—A serious break between General Huerta and the Catholic party is feared as the result of the summary treatment of the head of that party, Gabriel Fernandez Somellera. Somellera was arrested, sent to Vera Cruz and interned today in San Juan de los Rios fortress. La Nacion, the Catholic organ, also has been suppressed. All kinds of rumors are current, but one fact stands out, however, and that is that the friends of President Huerta are convinced the end is not far away and have renewed their efforts to bring about his resignation. Few of these friends have the temerity to suggest directly to Huerta that he quit office, but are attempting to bring about his elimination by indirect methods, many of them urging Archbishop Mora to greater activity.

During the week the American Charge Nelson O'Shaughnessy, who has continued to cultivate his close personal relations with the president again brought up the subject of his resignation and again was assured by the president that he would not resign.

It is possible this question was revived because of the recent conference between the charge.

Cost U. S. $45,000 Per Month.
El Paso, Texas, Jan. 17.—Arrangements for the carrying indefinitely of General Salvador Mercado and his 4,300 soldiers who ran into the United States after being defeated by rebels at Ojinaga, Mexico, were completed at Fort Bliss today. The defeated Mexican army and the 1,500 civilian refugees who accompanied them are expected here Tuesday by ten trains from Marfa, Texas, to which point they are marching from the border.

The feeding, tenting and clothing of the Huerta forces will be at the expense of the United States government. Estimates were that it would cost $45,000 a month to provide for the self-invited guests. General Mercado marching with the other Mexican generals and soldiers who were scattered for miles along the mountain road from Presidio opposite Ojinaga to Marfa, learned of a report from Mexico City that he would be court-martialed if he returned to Mexico. The report said that General Mercado had been criticised for evacuating Chihuahua, Ojinaga and other places. General Mercado merely repeated his statement that he ordered the soldiers and citizens to flee from Ojinaga on grounds of humanity because the rebels had ammunition and he had practically none.

Rebels Move Southward.
Navajo, Sonora, Mex., Jan. 17.—A train of nearly fifty box cars, loaded with constitutional troops, steamed southward from this point today.

General Carranza and his staff with the expedition of General Blanco, will cross the Sinaloa state line and make their next stop at San Blas, taking a side trip to the port of Topolobampo.

General Carranza attempted last night to get into communication with General Villa at Chihuahua city but failed because of the condition of the telegraph wires. He planned as soon as possible by telegraph with Villa concerning future operations of the insurgents in the northwestern part of Mexico.

Orozo Is Attacked.
Alpine, Texas, Jan. 17.—General Pascual Orozo, who escaped from Ojinaga with a few followers when General Villa's Mexican rebels captured that place last Saturday was attacked today by a band of rebels headed by Carlos, Mexico, 100 miles due south of this place. General Orozo was said to have forty men.

General Ynez Salazar who was arrested at Sanderson, Texas, yesterday by United States authorities passed through here today enroute to Marfa, where he will be arraigned today before a U. S. commissioner on an old warrant charging violation of the neutrality laws. Salazar said he knew nothing of Orozo.

CREDITORS TO UNTANGLE MILLIONAIRE'S AFFAIRS

"BORAX" SMITH'S TROUBLED FINANCIAL AFFAIRS TAKEN FROM HIM

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 17.—F. M. (Borax) Smith, one of the amazing multi-millionaires produced through the material riches of the far west, had his troubled financial affairs, capitalized at $2,000,000,000 taken out of his hands. A syndicate of British and American capitalist represented by George C. Moore of Detroit, and B. Fitzgerald of London, agreed to take over the United Properties company which really was Smith and see what they can do with it. Upon their success depends Smith's possible rehabilitation.

Overwhelmed by more money than he could count accruing to him from rich borax deposits which he developed and from which he got his nickname, Smith started to promote big enterprises. He built a magnificent traction system among the cities across the bay from San Francisco, he developed great tracts of land and financed light and power companies all Nevada mines.

He kept the management of all the concerns mostly in his head and finally he did not know any more than any one else whether he was worth any money at all or not.

Two factions undertook his rehabilitation and today's action is regarded as a triumph for one of them.

Smith may yet again be wealthy, his creditors say. They will invest about fifteen million dollars to straighten things out.

GRAND JURY INDICTS MEN 'FOR SELLING MOUNTAIN LOTS

Leavenworth Promoters Charged With Using Mails To Defraud.

Kansas City, Jan. 17.—N. H. Spitzer and W. P. Emerich of Leavenworth, Kansas, were indicted by a federal grand jury today charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of lands in Sonoma county, Cal.

According to the indictment they operated in motion picture theatres in Leavenworth. The indictment charges their plan was to advertise that all persons who attended the theatre on a certain night would have a chance to win three lots in California that were to be given away.

As the theatre patrons entered their names were taken. The next day, the government charges, those who were known to have money were notified through the mail they had won lots and were told to call at a hotel where they could claim their land. At the hotel the government charges, the winners were told there was an expense of eight dollars to get title and pay other small expenses. In most cases it is said the money was paid. When the proposition was investigated, according to the government, it was found the land was on the side of a steep mountain.

INSPECTORS REPORT NO ANTHRAX IN CATTLE ON HOMER FARM

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 17.—Dr. O. E. Dyson, state veterinarian and two government inspectors after making inspection of cattle on the Homer farm, near here, reported there was no anthrax in the herd.

Jacob Chapman, Chicago express driver, has been reported critically ill in the Iroquois Memorial hospital from anthrax, having become infected while delivering a package containing lung tissue of a cow that died on the Homer farm.

Six of Hamer's cows died and two others were destroyed. The others are recovering. Local veterinarians diagnosed the case as pleuropneumonia which, it is understood, has been confirmed by state and government authorities.

SHERIFF PLANS NEW MOVE TO GET MAYVILLE OUTLAW

BULLETIN.
MAYVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Three brothers of Edward Beardsley, the outlaw farmer who shot Poor master Putnam and who has been defying arrest since Tuesday, arrived here tonight and conferred with Sheriff Anderson. They are Charles Beardsley of Titusville, Pa., Carl of Jamestown and William, from a town in Western Pennsylvania. It has been agreed that the three brothers will seek a conference with Edward tomorrow and try to induce him to surrender. Failing in this, it is said, they will aid the sheriff in carrying out a plan which he has made for the man's capture.

MALVILLE, N. Y., Jan. 17.—Shielded from attack by a woman and nine children in the house, Edward Beardsley, who for five days has defied the authorities to arrest him for the shooting of a poor commissioner, passed an undisturbed day in his shack near Summerdale. A heavy snow fell all day and a biting wind whirled it about the poorly

ASSERTS EUGENIC LAWS DO HARM INSTEAD GOOD

DARROW DECLARES JUVENILE INSTITUTIONS BREED CRIMINALS

Speaker Tells Members of Irish Fellowship Club Nature is Doing More Than the Eugenic Professors Ever Can Do—No Professor Mated Shakespeare's Parents.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—Eugenic laws will do more harm than good and juvenile institutions are breeders of criminals, Clarence S. Darrow told members of the Irish Fellowship Club today.

"You may develop potatoes and cattle by eugenics, but whenever you get above the brute you must have freedom and choice," he said. "Political philosophers now are trying to regulate birth," said Mr. Darrow. "Permission to have offspring would depend on the amount of political 'pull' one has. Nature does more than the eugenic professors ever can do. She is ever busy building up the strong and tearing down the weak."

"What explanation is there for Shakespeare? No professor of eugenics mated his parents. They were obscure, yet nature developed one of the rarest specimens of humanity the world has known. What excuse is there for Lincoln?"

"We are laboring under an obsession that society will become perfect if we pass laws enough. These laws always effect more evils than the disease itself. If the making of laws were left to truly wise men, there would be very few of them."

"There are so many laws that no individual can possibly know all of them or obey all of them. No one in a life time could read them all and after he finished know what they were."

"The juvenile court is a late innovation. We have reached that point when we think people can't even take care of their own children. It is a mighty poor home that isn't better for a child than a state institution, which statistics show is a breeding spot for criminals. There are many who cannot give their children the training they should, but if the money which is spent in taking care of your juvenile institutions, were spent in helping the people in their homes the result would be different."

The speaker said that if probation officers had gone into the home of Robert Burns when he was a boy they would have placed the poet in an institution.

ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY DISCOVERED BY SHERIFF

DIXON, Ill., Jan. 17.—An attempted jail delivery was frustrated today when Sheriff Reid discovered loose plaster in the jail corridors. It was discovered that the prisoners had climbed the steam pipes to an old chimney hole and by the aid of iron spoons had scraped the plaster from the bricks and made an opening nearly through the wall. A rope ladder, two battered iron spoons and pieces of blankets made into sacks filled with the plaster and bricks taken from the opening were found in various cells. The opening was hidden in the day time by pasting a white towel over it with soap.

In addition to the Lee county prisoners those of Whiteside county are quarantined there. About a dozen are held under serious charges.

ELEVEN HUNDRED MINERS KILLED IN PENNSYLVANIA MINES

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 17.—There were 1,141 mine workers killed in and about the mines of Pennsylvania in 1913, according to a report made public today by Jas. E. Roderick, chief of the state department of mines. Of these 615 were killed in the Anthracite regions and the remaining 526 in the bituminous districts.

Pennsylvania's total coal production for the year is estimated by Chief Roderick at 258,000,000 tons, which exceeds the record of 1912, when approximately 244,000,000 tons were produced.

The production of anthracite is estimated at 90,000,000 tons and the bituminous at 168,000,000.

DECISION LANDS AS BOMB-SHELL IN RANKS OF SUFFRAGE LEADERS

House Rules Committee Decides Against Creation of Suffrage Committee

LADIES VERY INDIGNANT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The decision of the majority members of the house rules committee today against the creation of a standing committee of the house on woman suffrage, landed like a bomb-shell in the ranks of the national suffrage leaders gathered here. Both the congressional committee of the National American Women Suffrage association and the Congressional Union for Women Suffrage have been pressing the matter; but a radical difference of opinion between the organizations was indicated by the comments tonight.

The Congressional Union, at a meeting hurriedly called, adopted unanimously a resolution declaring that the meeting "regarded with indignation" the action of the Democratic members of the rules committee in refusing to create a committee to consider "the justice and expediency of extending self-governing institutions to women."

Mrs. Antoinette Funk, lobby member of the suffrage association took exception to the attitude of the congressional union.

"I am fearful lest the avowed policy of the union to strike at the Democratic party as a whole," she said, "and make war on Democratic members regardless of the friendliness or unfriendliness or their willingness to vote for or against suffrage legislation may have contributed to this most regrettable situation. It is the intention of our committee to remain entirely non-partisan and to support at primaries and elections such national officers as show a friendly disposition towards us and never to oppose any candidate unless he has ignored a well defined sentiment for suffrage among his constituents."

Mrs. Funk declared that under the caucus system four members of the rules committee had been able to defeat the will of the whole committee. Assurances had been received, she added, that a reconsideration would be sought as soon as possible by suffrage sympathizers who are members of the Democratic house caucus.

"We will then be able, at least," she added, "to put the blame where it belongs."

The Congressional Union "Re- gards with Indignation" the Refusal to Create Committee

TWO ORGANIZATIONS DIFFER

ANOTHER "PEACE TREATY"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Secretary Bryan and Dr. Paul Ritter, the Swiss minister today agreed on the terms of a treaty providing for the submission by an international commission of five members, for a period of at least one year, all questions between the United States and Switzerland which cannot be settled by diplomacy.

A heavy snow fell all day and a biting wind whirled it about the poorly constructed house. Smoke from the chimney, however, told that the outlaw still had fire wood. Sheriff Anderson tonight planned a decisive move to get Beardsley, dead or alive. Carl Beardsley will drive to his mother's home with Timothy Vance, a friend of Edward Beardsley and probably another man. They will be followed by deputy sheriffs who will wait behind the crest of the last hill commanding the house.

Carl Beardsley and his two companions will endeavor to induce the man to step outside the door. Then, if they are unable to make Beardsley a prisoner, a sharpshooter, stationed in the woods opposite the shack will shoot him with a rifle.

"If everything works out all right," said the sheriff tonight, "I will make a statement which will explain why I have done certain things in handling this case. There has been a lot of criticism but I am standing firm on this. I will resign this job rather than

GRIGGSVILLE LOSES TO JACKSONVILLE

LOCALS WIN CONTEST BY SCORE
OF 15 TO 14.

Basketball Game Hotly Contested and Griggsville Was in the Lead the First Half, 8 to 6—Second J.
H. S. Team Wins Curtain Raiser
From Whipple Academy.

A big crowd witnessed the basketball game last night in Strawn's hall between representatives of the Jacksonville high school and Griggsville high school, the locals winning by the close score of 15 to 14. The game was fast and furious from start to finish and at the end of the first half, the score stood 8 to 6, in favor of Griggsville. This was accounted for in a measure by the large number of fouls which J. H. S. had called on them. Griggsville won the greater number of points through fouls, Ferrand throwing out 10 of the fifteen called. Griggsville's field goals were 2, while Jacksonville high's scored 5. The local players were pretty well tired out from their long trip to Hannibal, where they played the evening before. The visitors have a good team and they play with lots of "pep." They are being coached by Waters, who refereed the first half and Fuller umpired and in the second half the officials reversed positions.

The crowd was kept in a good humor the first part of the evening by the curtain raiser between Jacksonville high's second team and Whipple Academy, the score being 11 to 10, in favor of the J. H. S. team.

The following is the lineup:
Griggsville—Wharton, center;

Summary field goals, Pyatt 3; Reynolds, 1; Boxell, 1; McHose, 1; Ferrand 1. Foul goals, Reynolds, 1; Boxell, 3; Smith, 1; Ferrand, 10. Officials—Referee and umpire—Waters and Fuller; Scorer, Walt; Time-keeper, Prof. J. H. Rayhill.

"THE LIGHT ETERNAL"

Just how close is the tie between the silt and the stage—or, at least, how close it is possible for that tie to be made—is vividly shown by such a play as "The Light Eternal," to be offered at the Grand, Friday, Jan. 23rd. As the theatre was originally a means of religious instruction, so the play which combines genuine dramatic merit with ethical and moral teachings, approaches nearest to the ideal drama and becomes a power for good. "The Light Eternal" is this kind of a play. Though gorgeously staged and spectacular in the extreme, this play's strongest appeal lies in its great emotional power. Dealing as it does with that period of history which must never have a solemn fascination for all Christendom—whether the individual beholder be a professor of the faith, or not—it strikes to the heart and leaves an ineradicable impression there. Its scenes are laid in the dawn of the fourth century.

GREAT POWER PLANT DOWN IN GEORGIA

ENTERPRISE AT TALLULAH FALLS ONE OF LARGEST IN WORLD.

Wheels in Operation Carry More Than Eighteen Thousand Horsepower—Energy Transmitted To Five Substations—Jacksonville Capital Invested in the Enterprise.

The Electrical World, a leading publication in the electrical world has in two recent issues devoted fifteen pages to subject matter and illustrations telling about the hydro-electric station at Tallulah Falls, Ga., one of the very largest in the world. It is said that this engineering project far surpasses in conception and results the great power dam at Keokuk. The project has special local interest from the fact that a large amount of Jacksonville capital is invested therein. John A. Ayres, Jr., one of the largest investors in the company and others in this locality who have investments there are Henry Oakes, Judge E. P. Kirby, James H. Ranson, Peter Ranson, E. S. Greenleaf, estate John R. Ranson estate.

Some few facts taken from the Electrical World's summary of its description of the plant are given herewith:

Is Vast Project.
The Georgia Railway & Power Company, of Atlanta, Ga., has recently placed in operation its hydro-electric station at Tallulah Falls, which is one of the largest water-power plants in the world. The station, which was designed and erected under the supervision of C. O. Lenz, consulting engineer of New York, has the distinction of being the largest operating in the South and possesses the highest-head reaction turbines in the country. These wheels have carried over 18,600 hp in actual operation, so that they are also among the highest-powered turbines of the world. The exciters are mounted on the main units, thus obviating the use of separate wheate-wheels and penstocks and making for higher overall efficiency of the plant. Energy is transmitted over steel tower lines at 110,000 volts to substations at Atlanta, Newman, Lindale, Gainesville and Cartersville, which are all of the outdoor type, that at Atlanta being the largest outdoor substation thus far built.

The Tallulah Falls development includes the construction of a solid masonry dam, 110 ft. high, situated above the Ladore Falls of the Tallulah River; a concrete-lined tunnel through rock for a distance of 6670 ft., having a net sectional area of 151 sq. ft., a structural steel reinforced forebay and surge tank; five steel penstocks, each 60 in. in diameter and 1200 ft. long, with provision for the future installation of a sixth penstock, and a power plant containing five 17,000-hp vertical-shaft, spiral-case-turbines, each directly connected to a 10,000-kw generator, space being provided for the future installation of the sixth unit. The power plant is situated in the gorge about 600 ft. below the top of the dam, and to facilitate the delivery of apparatus to the plant an inclined railroad with complete hoisting equipment was constructed leading from the terminal of the railroad above to landing platforms at the entrance to the power house.

At the rear of the power plant and connecting with it is a transformer and high-tension switch house from which the delivery of electrical energy is controlled.

The Storage Dam.
A storage dam is under construction about 6 miles above the Tallulah Falls development which will create a reservoir having a storage capacity of 1,250,000,000 cu. ft. This dam is of the reinforced concrete deck type with concrete buttresses and reinforced concrete apron on the downstream side over the spillway section. Provision is made within this dam to install a small power plant which will utilize the energy of the water which is released from storage.

The construction of the various parts of the development, especially the rock excavation at the dam site and in the tunnel, demanded the use of a great amount of compressed air. A temporary compressor plant was built 600 ft. down stream from the tunnel, where a timber dam 8 ft. high and 60 ft. long was erected. This plan enabled the construction of ad development having a 48-ft. head.

The intake dam is a rubble concrete structure of the gravity type arched to a radius of 900 ft. The maximum height of the dam is 110 ft. above the original ground surface, with footings on solid rock from 10 ft. to 20 ft. below; the crest length is 144 ft., and the total length of spillway is 280 ft. divided into ten sections, 28 ft. between pier.

Some of the half tone illustrations scattered through the two articles are explained as follows: "One of the main generating units at Tallulah Falls." "Main dam showing flashboard counterweights." "Downstream side of intake dam." "Forebay and penstock." "High tension transformer arrangement." "General view of generating station." "Outdoor transformers." "Boulevard substation."

Mr. Ayers has had holdings in the enterprise for a number of years and visited the plant while construction work was in progress. He has all along been a firm believer in the success of the great work and indications point to the fact that he took the correct view.

Just finished inventory in our millinery department and offer all Trimmings and Untrimmed Hats, Feathers and Millinery Trimmings considerably less than cost.

J. HERMAN.

C. M. HOCKING RANKS AMONG OLD MORGAN COUNTY RESIDENTS

Celebrated Eighty-Eighth Birthday Saturday—Has Voted For Republican Presidential Nominee From Fremont to Taft—Helped Elect First Mayor of Jacksonville.

C. M. Hocking, who was eighty-eight years old Saturday has a record as a Republican voter hard to surpass, having cast a vote for every candidate of the party from John C. Fremont in 1856 to William H. Taft in 1908. In 1912 Mr. Hocking lost his vote on account of a change of residence. He cast his first ballot at the age of thirty years, back to this country from England in 1850 and receiving his final naturalization papers in 1856. Mr. Hocking has thus been an American citizen for fifty-eight years and a Republican voter for a like period. He has lived in Morgan county since 1852 and reached last October his sixty-first milestone of married life. With the exception of partial blindness, his health is good and his faculties are unimpaired. Few men in this community have been and the job as long as Charles Mitchell Hocking and few men in Illinois can look back to their diamond wedding anniversary.

Mr. Hocking voted also for Jacksonville's first mayor, John Mathers, who was elected in 1867. The day he cast his ballot for Mayor Mathers, Mr. Hocking left Jacksonville for Lynnville where he and his father, Richard Hocking kept the "tavern" three and a half years. He moved thence to Franklin in 1870 and remained in that community until the early part of 1912. For the past year he has resided with his son, Richard Hocking, at 322 South Mauvalterre street. From his fifteenth year until a short time before his return to this city, Mr. Hocking has followed the trade of shoemaking.

Jacksonville in 1852.
Very different was the appearance of the town of Jacksonville in 1852 and the city of Jacksonville in 1914, commented Mr. Hocking in speaking of his first business ventures in this city. At a young man of twenty-five Street paving was unknown and log houses were common. Most of the businesses were conducted in buildings of thirty foot frontage or less. An old hotel was located on the site of the Farrell bank where Mr. Hocking put up when they first came to town. It was called the Western house and was conducted by John Chennery who later removed to Springfield. He first worked for David Hamilton who had a shoe shop where First & Nolley's shoe store stands. Later he and his father had their shoe shop on the present site of Phelps & Osborne's store.

Married Sixty-One Years.
The thirty-first day of October last, Mr. and Mrs. Hocking observed their sixty-first anniversary of married life. Mr. Hocking was united in marriage October 31, 1852, to Miss Martha Fletcher of Bath, Masson county. Seven children were born to them of whom six, two daughters and four sons survive. The sons are Fletcher Hocking of Franklin, Charles M., who went a number of years ago to California, James of Franklin and Richard Hocking, who conducts a barber shop in Jacksonville. Martha Hocking Burnett, wife of Marshall Burnett, resides near Franklin and Mrs. Laura Hocking Austin lives in Goodlands, Kan. A third daughter, Mrs. Mary Dennis passed away thirty-four years ago. Mr. Hocking was born in Falmouth, Cornwall, England, January 17, 1826 and came to this country in 1850. Mrs. Hocking was born in Yorkshire, England in 1822 and came to the United States in 1844.

THIS BANK— REAL BANKING SERVICE—

Real Banking Service is more than a matter of dollars and cents—more than a matter of principal and interest.

Real Banking Service is based on human interest and principles.

A man or woman, boy or girl starts an account—this at first only represents so much money.

As time goes on the depositor learns that this bank means more to him than merely a place to put his money. He acquires the banking habit, gets acquainted with the bank officials and forms a bank relationship—more than merely an acquaintance.

He becomes known at the bank. In time business or professional opportunities come. He needs advice or help. He comes to this bank for it. The advice he receives is dependable and is cheerfully given.

He finds that character, personality, individuality—call it what you may—is a real business asset—one that he can bank on—one that is a great help to him in his business affairs.

Later he has us draw his will, makes us his executor, knowing that our charges are moderate, that in case of his death his estate will be handled by men who know how and that his wishes will be carried out promptly, economically and safely.

For this is his bank. The bank knows him—helps and advises him on matters financial, just as his doctor and lawyer advise him on matters of health and law.

To get the best out of your bank, select it now for its character, strength and service. Then stay with it and grow with it.—THIS BANK

SPECTACULAR CAREER OF THE OLD ROMAN

COMISKEY IS NOW GRATIFYING
LONG CHERISHED AMBITION.

Owner of Chicago White Sox, Who Rose From Playing Ranks, Making a World Tour He Promised a Quarter of Century Ago—His Career as Player, Manager and Winner of Championships.

Charles Albert Comiskey, the only sole owner of a baseball franchise and plant in the major leagues, was born in Chicago on August 15, 1859, at the corner of Union and Maxwell streets. His father, John (Honest John) Comiskey, represented the old Seventh and Eighth wards in the city council for twelve years. Clerk of the country board and assistant county treasurer were only a few of the political positions which the father had filled, so the "Old Roman"—a nickname the origin of which is claimed by many but lost in antiquity—inherited the tact and understanding of human nature necessary to the successful politician.

While attending the Holy Family parochial school and later St. Ignace college of Chicago, and St. Mary's of Kansas, Comiskey endeavored not to let his studies interfere seriously with his outdoor recreation, which consisted principally of baseball.

As he advanced in years his father wished him to learn some "useful trade," so he was apprenticed to a man named Hoga to learn the intricacies of plumbing. But leaks did not appeal to young Comiskey and frequent arguments as to the relative value of plumbing and baseball led to his departure from the parental abode when 17 years of age to accept a position as third baseman for an independent club in Milwaukee at $60 per month. Ted Sullivan, who now is on Comiskey's payroll as a scout, was the team's manager. Home ties were not severed beyond recall, however, until the following year, when Comiskey bade good-bye to his family and connected himself with an independent team at Elgin as pitcher. Relying on a fair assortment of speed and a fair assortment of curves, he did not lose a game all season. He was in 1878 signed by Dubuque of the Northwestern league, Ted Sullivan being the manager. Senator Allison and Speaker D. B. Henderson were the backers of the club. Comiskey was pitcher, first baseman and outfielder, as the occasion required, for the pitchers of those days worked on the slab in every other game as a rule, and on "off days" filled some other position. For this season Comiskey's salary was $50 a month.

He comes a Train Butcher.

Because of his exile from home, Ted Sullivan furnished Comiskey with employment during the winter, and he traveled out of Dubuque for Sullivan's news agency. Commissions of 20 per cent on sales as a train butcher made Comiskey's baseball salary look small, but he preferred the diamond with its smaller earnings in the summer.

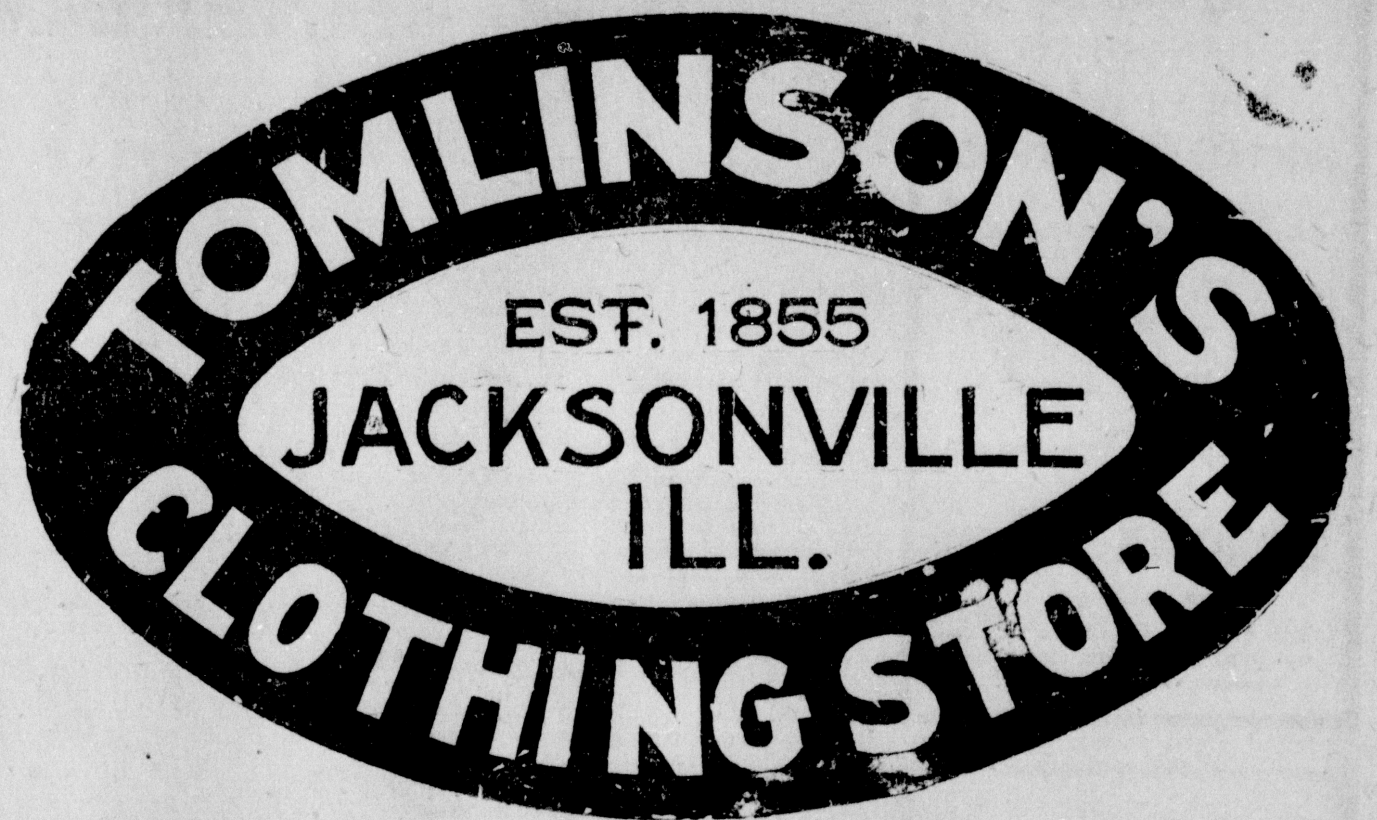

During 1878, 1879, 1880 and 1881 he played with Dubuque, winning the pennant in 1879. During his last two years of service Larry Reis and Charley Radbourn, (one of the greatest pitchers in the history of baseball) were added as artillerymen and Comiskey was switched to first base. First basemen then stood glued to the bag. Comiskey originated the first base play of today, in which the first baseman plays wide and relies on his pitcher to cover the bag.

In 1882 Comiskey joined the St. Louis Browns at a salary of $75 per month. When the first pay day came round Christ Van Der Ahe was so pleased with his recruit he handed him $125. Comiskey became manager in 1883, following a tilt between Van Der Ahe and his peppery manager, Ted Sullivan.

The Browns, under Comiskey's management, won the American association pennant in 1885, 1886, 1887 and 1888. Because of the disagreements following the world's series of 1885 between the Browns and the Chicago White Stockings, which the Browns claimed, although the seventh game was declared a tie, the series of 1886, won by the Browns, was for the entire gate receipts. The ball used in the deciding game is still in Comiskey's office at White Sox park, Chicago.

Founded the Western League.

The "Old Roman" severed his connection with the Browns in 1887 to become manager of the Brotherhood team of Chicago at an annual salary of $8,000. The Brotherhood movement was a failure and all the players were ordered to return to the clubs which they deserted, so Comiskey returned to the Browns. His next berth was with the late John T. Brush as manager of the Cincinnati Reds in 1892, 1893 and 1894, at a salary of $7,500 and a share of the profits. In the fall of 1893 while south in search of players and health—the doctors told him he was threatened with tuberculosis—he conceived the idea of the Western league and broached the latter to the present White Sox is located on the part of the site of the Brotherhood park, where Comiskey played in 1890. can league was evolved from the old Western.

Now, as a climax to a spectacular career as player and manager, Comiskey, the most popular owner in organized baseball, is leading his own team in a missionary tour of the world in the interests of America's national pastime.

Back in 1888, two years after Comiskey, with the Browns, had defeated the White Stockings for the world's championship, A. G. Spalding, then owner of the Chicago club, took on a trip around the world the White Stockings and an all-star aggregation called the All-Americans. When Comiskey heard of the world trip he remarked: "Some day I will take a team of my own around the world." During the quarter of a century that has elapsed since the last tour he has kept the idea in mind. With a comfortable fortune, amassed through the loyalty of Chicago fandom, he is now gratifying his long cherished ambition with a team representing the New York Giants traveling as the opponents of his Chicago White Sox. Comiskey's share of the expense of this world tour is over $100,000, less the gate receipts which may be received from the games abroad and in the swing across the country before the party sailed from the Pacific coast on Nov. 19. The gate receipts are a gamble, but Comiskey is making good his promise of twenty-five years ago. The tour of the globe will terminate in New York next March.

RAISED PRICE CORN NEAR NORTONVILLE

FRED SPIES UTILIZED LAND FARMED FOR MORE THAN SEVENTY YEARS.

Record He Made In Unfavorable Year Shows What Can Be Done By Intelligent Methods—Nortonville Neighborhood Is Historic Ground—Early Days of the County Are Recalled.

Anyone who has been deluded with the idea that high class results could not come out of land down by Nortonville, should sit up and take notice. You who have looked upon Nortonville as a land of hills, hollows and clay farms take another look. Fred Marion Spies, a 14 year old boy, raised seventy-two bushels of corn on one acre down in Nortonville, even with a most unfavorable corn season, and won the hundred dollar prize and the boy's championship of the county in the Boys' Corn club. What think you of this, you who own $250.00 and $300.00 an acre farms and pride yourselves upon owning the best corn lands in the county? And, listen further, the acre which won this prize has been farmed about seventy-five years, notwithstanding the argument that our farm lands are losing their fertility and must be built up with commercial fertilizers. And the same family has owned and farmed this land since it was bought from the government and it was not considered first-class either when it was entered for the entrymen in Nortonville came too late to have first choice of lands and settled there, drew consolation prizes or because the topography was like that of their native lands. For, know ye, that Fred Marion Spies' forebears on both sides (his mother was a Seymour) were pioneers in Nortonville.

These Came From Kentucky.

They came to Morgan county from Kentucky about 1830, the year of the "Deep Snow," as did the Berrymans, Burches, Calhouns, Covys, Coxes, McCurleys, Roberts, Fannings, Gibsons, Henrys, Hills, Jones, Reads, Samples, Sargeants, Sevlars, Whitlocks, Harts, Van Winkles, Weatherfords, Wrights, Shepherds, Wyatts, Woods, Gunns, Hams, Bulls, Reeses and others.

They came from or through Kentucky some of them were natives of the land of Boone, others had only stopped there a time on their way here. The homes of their Scotch-Irish ancestors were in the Carolinas, Virginia, Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama. No doubt some of their ancestors fought in the Revolution at Hanging Rock, the Cowpens, Guilford Court House, Hooker's Hill, Fort Ninety-Six and Entaw Springs, under Nathaniel Green, Francis Marion and Daniel Morgan, in honor of whom this county was named. Sure it is that their fathers and mothers came into east Tennessee and settled along the Nolichucky, Clinch, French Broad, Catawba, Waxhaw, Watauga and Holston rivers in those turbulent times, when John Sevier, and James Robertson were trying to organize the State of Franklin. To this region came stories of the rich Illinois country and old "Kentucky" spread by soldiers who served under George Rogers Clarke in his famous campaign, which resulted in the capture of old Kaskaskia from the British in 1778. These marvelous reports and their restless dispositions led them down the old Wilderness Trail into the happy hunting grounds between the Ohio and Cumberland rivers and in a few years they or their children came into Illinois. The fame of the Sangamon country and of Diamond Grove no doubt attracted them to Morgan county and this county had been settled by men from south of Ohio and they would soon find friends of sympathetic, religious and political views.

Expectations Not Great.

At any rate, these pioneers located in Nortonville about 1830. Prior to that time the choicest timber lands in the middle part of the county along the Maudsley, Terre river and as in those days no pioneer considered prairie land hardly worth entering these pioneers located in Nortonville. But it was not Nortonville then. It was along the river La Pomme of the early French which is the Apple Creek of the Americans, or along Big Apple Creek or Little Apple Creek or Panning's Creek or near Panther Creek or in Hart's Prairie or Apple Creek Prairie or in the edge of Greasy Prairie or of Muddy, and later the lands around Nortonville came to be known as Youngblood. These new settlers little dreamed of the future of Illinois. They doubtless hoped to raise a little corn, some cotton and tobacco, graze the hills with their hogs and cattle and bag much wild game and perhaps after a time move on to other lands. Some of them were in search of homes for themselves and their children in this land of opportunity. Coming from sections where the soil had little fertility they would have questioned the sanity of any man who asserted that seventy-five years after one of the descendants could raise a prize winning acre of corn.

Looking Back to 1828.

The story runs that as early as 1828 there was a school conducted in the community and that Newton Cloud was preaching there. As time went on Youngblood church, Union Grove church and Hart's Prairie church were organized as were the schools known as Youngblood, Apple Creek, Hartland, College Hill, Brush College, Hurricane Neck, Providence and West Point.

In pioneer days it was a quiet neighborhood. There were no Indian troubles but there were Indians in the north and west part of the state and when in 1832 Gov. Reynolds called for volunteers to subdue Blackhawk's band the hills of Nortonville supplied more than their share of men to serve in that last Indian war in Illinois along with Lincoln, Zachary Taylor, Winfield Scott, Robert Anderson, William Thomas, O. H. Browning, John J. Hardin, Joseph Duncan, Murray McConnell, Sidney Breeze, William Weatherford, Edward D. Baker, Joseph E. Johnston, Albert Sidney Johnson, Jefferson Davis and many others who later in filed honorable stations in our State and Nation. When the Mormon war came on these men responded to Governor Ford's call to arms and went with Hardin into Hancock county. When the president called for volunteers for the Mexican war the hardy pioneers again sent many representatives with the gallant Hardin into Mexico, and they were with Hardin when he lost his life at Buena Vista and one of them William Weatherford succeeded to the colonelcy of Hardin's regiment after his death. The sons of these pioneers inherited their fathers' patriotism and many of them served in the Civil war and right well they served.

Nortonville has many progressive farmers and good citizens even if it has no railroad or postoffice. There are plenty of good farms there and some not so good. One of them is good enough to furnish the acre for the prize yield in the county even if it was farmed for seventy-five years. One of its boys with the daring and courage of his forebears was not afraid to go after the prize even if he did live in Nortonville. If rumors are true there are a number of farmer boys down there who are after the prize this year and they are boys who can and will hit the line hard for now they must live up to their reputation.

The boys who live in Joy Prairie, and Jersey Prairie and in those rich prairies around Jacksonville and elsewhere in the county, even the boys in the fertile bottom lands along the Illinois river can enter this contest but they must realize that Nortonville has never been beaten and that her boys propose to retain the championship.

Nothing is represented by a naught. A naught and an "O" look alike, there are plenty of "O's" in Nortonville and in Youngblood, perhaps that is why some folks thought that Nortonville stood for nothing, agriculturally and that nothing good in the farming line could come out of Nortonville. They must give it up now for Fred Marion Spies has knocked the reputation out of Nortonville.

FEDERAL LEAGUE WILL REMAIN AS ORGANIZED

HARMONY EVENTUALLY PREVAILS AT MEETING OF CLUB OWNERS

Rumor that Weeghman Would Withdraw Causes Most Sensation—Efforts To Sign Tinker With Brooklyn Are Futile—Other News of the Sporting World.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The Federal League of Baseball clubs will remain intact as recently organized, it was said tonight, as a result of a long secret meeting of the club owners. During the day many rumors were afloat that the new league was about to break up, but harmony eventually prevailed.

The rumor that caused most discussion was that Charles Weeghman of Chicago, had announced his intention to withdraw from the Federal League and buy the St. Louis club of the American league. This threat was due to the reports that other club owners in the Federal League had not made sufficiently theoric efforts to place their teams on a par with Major League baseball teams.

Efforts Are In Vain.

Ban Johnson, president of the American League, Charles Ebbets of Brooklyn and August Herrmann of Cincinnati were in the city all day, attempting, it is said, to induce Joe Tinker to sign with Brooklyn, despite his contract already made with the Chicago Federals. Their attempts in this direction were futile.

The meeting of the Federals extended far into the night. After all the kinks had been smoothed out, according to reports that reached the outside, the owners of the federal clubs discussed ways and means for insuring success in the struggle to gain a standing in the baseball world commensurate with the aims outlined when the new federal league entered the lists with the American and National leagues.

Weeghman who is considered the strongest of the Federal League club backers, admitted after the meeting he had been offered a chance to buy the St. Louis Browns if he would drop new league interests. He would not say positively that the approach came from members of organized baseball and refused to discuss the matter further.

While the Federals were in session a secret meeting by a committee of representatives of organized baseball was going on in another part of the city. The committee was composed of President Ebbets, of Brooklyn, President Herrmann of Cincinnati in the National League, President Hedges of the Browns and President Navin of Detroit in the American League.

B. B. Johnson, president of the American league was with them. Herrmann, Ebbets and Johnson were found as they were leaving Johnson's office but not one of them would admit the session concerned the Federal League.

Herrmann said he came to Chicago to close some business with Johnson relating to the new agreement between organized baseball and the Players' Fraternity. This business was reported to have been closed at the recent meeting in Cincinnati.

President Gilmore would not discuss the report that organized baseball had tried to crush the Federal League today.

He gave out a statement that the list of major league players the Federals had signed would not be given out at this time. The names will be given out by the various clubs in their respective cities.

"After reviewing the list of players already signed by the respective clubs of the league," Gilmore said, "the board of managers can assure the public that the class of baseball which will be offered by our league will meet with the approbation of the most critical fan."

"If there are any who have doubts as to the ultimate outcome of the league I can state that the expenditures and obligations already made and assumed by the clubs are of such a magnitude that it should convince all ball players and the most skeptical fan that the reports circulated by our adversaries are without foundation."

"The major league players we have signed are of the highest grade and seem to appreciate the opportunities we have opened to them. They have expressed the opinion that many of their fellow players who are still under negotiations with the various clubs will take advantage of the present situation and soon join them."

Altogether there were twenty-three club owners and managers at the meeting and the lobby of the hotel where it was held, swarmed with players and followers of baseball.

Hinners, of the Enquirer, on the same day was notified by Governor Dunne of his appointment as a member of the Board of Voting Machine Commissioners.

OBITUARY.

On January 6th, occurred the death of Mrs. James F. Rogers, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Bacot, 394 Ashland avenue, River Forest, Ill.

She was in good health and comparative youth, only fifty nine years of age, but on the day following Christmas she was stricken with pneumonia which proved fatal.

Mrs. Rogers was born in Morgan county on a farm west of Chapin, June 3, 1854. She attended the Woman's College in Jacksonville. In 1876 she went to Canon City, Colo., to live, being preceded there by her brother, Lou Thompson and sister, Mrs. M. M. Engleman. She was married to James F. Rogers in 1879. They lived in Colorado until about a year ago they came to visit their daughter, Mrs. Bacot and extended their visit indefinitely.

Before her marriage she was Eva Thompson, daughter of the late Judge A. J. Thompson, formerly of this county.

Mrs. Rogers was an accomplished and cultured woman of musical attainments and literary ability, being a writer of poems and short stories, work of which she was still engaged at the time of her death. She is survived by her husband and three children, Mrs. E. C. Bacot of River Forest, Ill., Mrs. W. B. Rittenhouse of Duluth, Minn., and Frank T. Rogers of Oregon, Ill. Four brothers, Frank, Charlie, Ed and Hal Thompson of Colorado. Four sisters, Mrs. L. D. Wilmet and Mrs. Leona T. Miller of Blaine, Wash.; Mrs. Emma Engleman of New York City, and Mrs. Kate Engleman of Richmond, Cal., and a large number of friends in Morgan county who will regret to learn of her death.

Funeral services were conducted from the Bacot home by the Rev. C. Harmon Johnson. Interment was made in the Forest Home cemetery.

MI-O-NA A SPECIFIC

FOR STOMACH ILLS

You must take precaution against stomach distress. It is dangerous and needless for you to suffer.

A bad taste in the mouth, headache, dizziness, coated tongue, pain in the colon or bowels usually means that you have been eating too much or something that the overloaded and tired digestive organs refuse to handle in the natural way. You should get relief at once.

MI-O-NA Tablets are a sure and safe specific for stomach disorders. Get a fifty cent box today—always keep them in the house—carry them when traveling—take them at the first warning of stomach distress. No more effective remedy is known for stomach ills—and absolutely harmless.

If you have that uncomfortable feeling of fullness, stomach upset, and are irritable and depressed, beware—you are warned that the stomach and digestive organs are in rebellion. Do not delay. Take MI-O-NA—at once—immediate relief is certain.

If not benefited MI-O-NA costs nothing. Druggists everywhere.

REV. W. A. SUNDAY HAS

MADE OVER $300,000

Noted Evangelist has Also Converted 175,000—Is Soon to Conclude Meeting in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 11.—When Rev. Billy Sunday completes his eight weeks' evangelistic campaign in Pittsburgh, now in progress, his collections will have amounted to over $300,000, and his converts will number 175,000 as the result of his work in the pulpit since September 5, 1909.

This conclusion, based upon carefully collected statistics, is made by T. T. Frankenberg, a Columbus, Ohio, newspaperman, who has just completed a survey of the evangelist's life and has printed his findings in a new 250 page volume, "The Spectacular Career of Rev. Billy Sunday." The book traces the great evangelist's life from his birth.

The author of the book found that since Billy Sunday started in on the real "heavy work" of his career, at Boulder, Colo., in September, 1909, to the close of the final campaign of last season at South Bend, Ind., on June 15, the evangelist had:

Caused a total of 146,022 people to publicly profess Christianity by "hitting the sawdust trail."

Collected for personal use in free-will offerings a total of $250,360.82. Averaged $326.64 a day for every day on which meetings were conducted during the three years.

These totals do not include the Steubenville, Ohio, and Johnstown, Pa., campaigns, which added about $500,000 more to the evangelist's collections, and made nearly 20,000 more converts. Based on the law of averages, and considering the size of the city and the attendance at the meetings in Pittsburgh, Mr. Frankenberg estimates that as a result of his eight weeks in the Smoky City Billy Sunday will make between 20,000 and 25,000 converts and will leave Pittsburgh with between $35,000 and $40,000. This is a fair advance estimate, based upon the mathematical average which he has established in his previous three years.

The compilation in "The Spectacular Career of Rev. Billy Sunday" is the first accurate record of the evangelistic meetings. In each instance the author secured the data from a prominent resident of the city—either an editor, a minister, or one of the men prominent in the campaign.

The cities visited in the three years on which the figures are based are: 1909-10, Boulder, Colo.; Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Youngstown, Ohio; Danville, Ill.; Bellingham, Wash.; New Castle, Pa.; Waterloo, Iowa. In 1910-11 he visited the following: Portsmouth, Lima, Toledo, Ohio; Erie, Pa.; Springfield, Ohio; and Wichita, Kan. In 1912-13 the following was his itinerary: Canton, Ohio; Wheeling, W. Va.; Fargo, N. D.; Beaver Falls, Pa.; East Liverpool, Ohio; McKeesport, Pa.; Columbus, Ohio; and Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Since late in 1910 his collections have never failed to run into five figures—with the single exception of Fargo, N. D.

FOR STOMACH TROUBLE

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, Has Found a Remedy.

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions usually go together.

John W. Skillen of Sidney, Ohio, says: "I had a bad stomach trouble for years, and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was poor and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking 'Vinol' I find a remarkable improvement in my health, my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight. I would not be without 'Vinol'."

'Vinol' make weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. 'Vinol' is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste.

Try a bottle of 'Vinol' with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Lee P. Alcott, Druggist, Jacksonville, Ill.

Information to Piano Purchasers

As has been announced before by me, I have changed my plans for marketing pianos. Instead of maintaining a retail store, I am now selling direct from factory to the home, saving the customer retail profits and retail store expenses.

I find it has been falsely circulated to some of my friends and prospective customers that I am no longer in the piano business. I wish to correct that impression by saying that I am still selling pianos, and on a larger basis than ever.

If you will come to my headquarters, in the Ayers National Bank building, I will show you that I am selling more pianos through my money-saving plan now than are sold by any other piano house in the city.

If you are going to buy a Piano or Player-piano you will do well to see me before you do so, or call Bell phone No. 798 and I will call on you. Watch for my announcement later.

SULLIVAN AN AVOWED CANDIDATE FOR SENATE

PROMINENT DEMOCRATIC LEADER MADE FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT SATURDAY.

States That He Wants the Post Because of the Great Honor Attached and That His Candidacy Is Not Result of Friends Urgency—Points to Problems Unknown to Party in Earlier Days.

Chicago, Jan. 17.—In a formal announcement made today that he will seek the Democratic nomination for the United States senatorship at the next election Roger C. Sullivan made the following statement:

"I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

"No one has forced me into the contest; nor am I responding to the insistent demands from all parts of the state."

"It is true that a great many warm and loyal friends throughout Illinois have urged me to become a candidate and have offered me their earnest support; but I shall not make a false statement, pretending to be a coy or reluctant candidate."

"In the course of every campaign the question is asked why one wants the office for which he is running."

"I have no doubt that question will be frequently asked of me. I will state the reason now and for all time."

"The honor of representing Illinois in the United States Senate is great enough for any man's ambition and the opportunity it offers for creditable public service is, in itself, sufficient reward. I would prize the opportunity to take part in the doing of the big things to be accomplished in this country by the Democratic party."

"If my candidacy should be successful, the opportunity will receive the best there is in me, unhampered by distractions of any kind."

Raised in Boone County.

"It may be suggested that no one from Chicago should at this time aspire to the senatorship. 'Would I be better qualified if I had remained in Boone county where I spent my youth and early manhood? I do not believe one's residence on a quarter section of land determines his fitness for public office."

"But all that is a long way off. Before anybody is elected United States Senator, we shall have an elimination contest. If I did not believe I could qualify for the finals I would not become a candidate."

"We have traveled fast politically in the last half dozen years. In this day every voter knows the importance of the senatorship and wants to know what each aspirant stands for. He wants to know, not what a candidate says, but what he really is, under the veneer of political hand-shaking, posing, and spouting."

"During my campaign I would like to meet every voter face to face. That may be impossible. Failing to do so, I shall be glad to answer any questions put to me by anyone."

"For more than 25 years I have had to do with the political life of Illinois, and I am quite willing to have any act of mine, political or private, held up to the light of day. 'During the course of every campaign some question is raised as to the amount of money spent by candidates and where it comes from."

"My expenditures as well as the names of contributors (if any) to my campaign fund, will be open to inspection and certification by public accountants and the results made public."

"Expression of party policy changes from time to time, as new problems arise. Fundamentals—democratic government for a democratic people—remain unchanged. 'To say that we stand for the party of Jefferson and Jackson is not enough today. We face problems unknown to them."

Great Problems Confront Nation.
"There's were problems of a young and struggling nation, scarcely settled. Ours are problems of a developed nation of approximately 100,000,000 people, half of them massed in cities."

"We are in an advanced and new era. Recognition of this has entered into all walks of business and social life. It is a part of the public policy of national administration, it is directing the affairs of big and small business."

"The big problem of today is how to secure the greatest measure of comfort and happiness for our neighbor as well as for ourselves. This focuses attention on the problems of the farm, the factory and the mine; on how to have better homes, better working conditions, better business conditions; in other words, better conditions for everybody based upon realization that the welfare of the individual everywhere is inseparably interwoven with that of the community. The rights of the individual are to be preserved, even if, by so doing, the supposed rights of the combined are curbed."

Praises Wilson.

"Whoever understands the drift of modern times must see that President Wilson is properly applying to these problems the fundamentals of broad democracy, and that his efforts in this direction will not stop short of accomplishment. Within less than a year his administration has brought us an income tax law; tariff revision downward; financial legislation that achieves the decentralization of currency control."

"The 'everybody-for-himself-and-devil-take-the-hindmost' policy has seen its best days. Life in this country is going to be made a fair free-for-all race."

"The president has a deep insight into existing conditions. Like Lincoln he is ready to cope with the modern problems without flinching or shifting; he understands the reason why of them and has a clear-eyed conception of how to deal with them. 'I long since came to the conclusion that large business organizations, especially public service companies, should, and eventually must, accept one of two alternatives, namely: government regulation or government ownership of the sources of supply and means of delivery to the places of consumption."

"I do not claim any originality in this thought; I believe it is concurred in by a large majority of the thinking men of the country."

"The wise corporation manager of today is prepared to meet the new order of things."

"The limited experience we have had in the regulation of interstate railroad rates, railroad rebating and the like, has awakened the public conscience, has created a wholesome respect for the federal law, and in the end has been of great advantage to all concerned, even though at times those immediately involved have suffered temporary embarrassment."

Believes in Public Utilities Law.

"These changes always find capital timid and holding back. Its fears are oft times fanciful. In Wisconsin, for example, we find administration of the public utilities law giving equal satisfaction to public and investor. In Illinois we are indebted to Governor Dunne, who has been a pioneer in this field of thought, for now having a similar law on the statute books."

"I believe, as I have already indicated, that in President Wilson, we have a man with a national program along these lines that is cleared closer to the ground, and contains less hair splitting, than anybody else has conceived within fifty years. If my candidacy should be successful, it will be a privilege to participate in the working out of that program."

"This is the first time in Illinois that the people have had the full measure of say as to who should represent them in the United States Senate. The vote by the people for United States senator is no longer advisory to the legislature. The people now directly nominate and elect. I have always favored direct primaries and what influence I have heretofore had, has always been exerted for the passage of direct primary laws."

"Therefore, in this, the first year of direct nomination and election of United States senator in Illinois, I cheerfully, and unhesitatingly submit my candidacy to the judgment of the Democratic electorate."

AMERICANS TO STUDY IN MUNICH SCHOOLS.

By special arrangement between the city authorities of Munich, Germany, and the United States bureau of education, a party of American teachers, not to exceed 25, will go to Germany in April to serve as student teachers—students preparing to teach—in the trade continuation schools of Munich. They will remain in Munich from April to July, and will have unusual opportunities for studying the methods by which one of the foremost cities of Europe educates its citizens, particularly in the field of industrial training, in which the work of Munich under Dr. Kerscheneitner is conspicuous.

"It is to be hoped that American teachers of manual training and industrial subjects will take advantage of this opportunity," said Dr. Claxton, commissioner of education, in announcing the plan. "It means getting at first hand the experience of one of the most notable industrial education systems of Europe. Mr. L. L. Summers, a special collaborator of this bureau, who has recently returned from a study of German conditions and is now lecturing in this country, reports that Dr. Kerscheneitner, Inspector Schmidt and the city authorities are particularly anxious to welcome a party of representative teachers from the United States. The official nature of the invitation from the mayor and council of the city gives it added attractiveness."

"Some of the courses in which the visiting teachers will be permitted to take part are: A: forging, goldsmithing, copperwork, bookbinding, printing, lithography, glasspainting, decorating, cabinetmaking and fine mechanics. The object is not only to inform us that the Americans will 'showed to us' what they make 'they pay for the materials.'"

The notices state that the usual German school fees, amounting in this case to $2 a month, will be charged. The chief expense will be for transportation, board and lodging being comparatively cheap. Bureau officials believe that some communities where industrial training is in an experimental stage would be justified in giving teachers leave of absence and paying their expenses for this trip.

The bureau of education announces that will answer inquiries from teachers who may be interested in the plan.

NEW RED CROSS ACTIVITIES.

Well Known Nursing Leader Honored.

As a great humane and patriotic institution, devoted to the mitigation of suffering for the sake of humanity and the upbuilding of a strong and vigorous people, the American Red Cross, through its nursing service, is carrying into the homes of the people such simple instruction in hygiene and home care of the sick as will aid in the improvement of living conditions and the prevention of illness, and make it possible for women to render intelligently such care to the sick in their own homes as may safely be entrusted to them.

To encourage the employment of visiting nurses, not only in small cities and towns, but in the vast stretches of country where the services of a physician are difficult to obtain and where trained nurses are now unknown, a Town and County Nursing Service has recently been established by the Red Cross. It is hoped through co-operation with local communities that the dwellers in all sections of the country, even the most isolated, may eventually be assured proper nursing care in case of serious illness.

To Miss Jane A. Delano, the chairman of the National Committee on Nursing Service, through whose instrumentalities the nursing work of the Red Cross has been brought to its present high plane, the Red Cross gold Medal of Merit has been awarded by the President.

TEACHING MATERIAL IN GOVERNMENTAL PUBLICATIONS.

The hidden wealth in government publications, especially as it affects teachers, is described by Frederick K. Noyes in a bulletin just issued by the United States bureau of education. Mr. Noyes has delved, as he says, "into the vast stores of teaching material that he embedded in government documents, many of which give no indications, from their titles, of their value for educational purposes," and has furnished a guide to a small portion of that part of this material which has special significance for teachers or others interested in education.

Tons and tons of reports, bulletins, and miscellaneous documents are turned out daily by the immense printing plant of the government. Congress and the congressional committees are constantly having documents of various kinds printed for general distribution. Every department and every bureau in the government has its own publications, frequently amounting to millions of copies annually for each office. The bulletin just published by the bureau of education aims to list a small part of the large amount of this material which may be of direct use to teachers, especially material from unexpected sources, the special value of which would otherwise remain unknown.

In speaking of the work in connection with this bulletin, Commissioner Claxton made it clear that he wished it were possible for the bureau to do more than merely publish an index, useful as he hoped that might be. "One of the greatest needs of our elementary schools is suitable materials to supplement the meager outlines and brief statements of the text books," he asserted. "If the bureau had the funds, it could do a notable service by reprinting much of the material, either free of charge or at a price sufficient to cover the printing. The school work in geography, history, hygiene, nature study, and other subjects might then be made far more interesting, thorough, and practical than it now is."

The bureau bulletin not only calls particular attention to out of the way documents of educational interest and value; it also tells how these may be obtained, usually free or at a cost price of a few cents, from the various government offices.

"Teaching Material in Governmental Publications" is Bulletin 77, 1913, of the bureau of education, and will be sent free on request as long as the supply lasts.

Will Interest Feeders.

In this space from week to week feeders of cattle and hogs, and for that matter of all farm animals, will find some very valuable matter. Charles Wood, who during twenty years has fed 8,000 cattle and conducted many experiments in feeding, has reserved the space to tell the public generally about the methods he has found the best.

Mr. Wood's plan for getting best results is by the use of his improved grain softener and of his recently invented stover rack and troughs. The two, used in conjunction, double the nutriment value in corn and produce results which are guaranteed.

Here are the results which this method will produce and Mr. Wood is ready to guarantee the figures:

1 bushel of No. 2 corn will produce 20-lbs. pork; 12-lbs. beef.
1 bushel of No. 3 corn will produce 18-lbs. pork; 10-lbs. beef.
1 bushel of No. 4 corn will produce 16-lbs. pork; 9-lbs. beef.

Feeders will find the use of this method the surest way to make dollars. Watch this space for further facts on this subject.

STOCK TRADING BARELY DISTURBS LEVEL OF PRICES

Market Shows Little Vigor—
Active Investment Buying
Subsides—Markets Position Weakened by Reduction of the Short Interest.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The level of prices was barely disturbed by today's trading in stocks. The market showed none of the vigor of the earlier part of the week. At the outset the bears attacked the list but they made little headway.
Reading was forced down a point but elsewhere recessions were slight, although for a time there was heavy selling of the favorite stocks.
Lack of success caused the shorts to retreat and a partial recovery was affected. The movement thereafter was unusually narrow with a downward tendency.

It was apparent that investment buying which was an important feature of the week's upward movement has subsided. The market's position was weakened further by reduction of the short interest during the last few days. Canadian Pacific was strong all through the session because the only important stock to oppose the general movement. Low priced shares which were marked up vigorously yesterday after the advance of the leaders had been checked were dormant today. Another important gain in cash was disclosed by the bank statement. The inflow of currency during the week largely exceeded forecasts, as the banks showed a net increase in cash holdings of $23,000,000. Although the reserve requirement was raised by a gain of nearly $50,000,000 in net deposits the surplus increased almost $11,000,000.

With such a showing, it appeared probable that present easy conditions in the money market would continue for some time.

Announcement that the Minneapolis and St. Louis has arranged for extension of the bulk of its
$3,000,000 notes maturing February
1, was followed by an advance of three points in the road's four percent bonds.

How To Heal a Stubborn Abscess

A Home Method Sure to Restore Flesh to Natural Health.

Here are some very valuable facts for all who have any blood trouble with external sores.

Do not cover any sore so as to interfere with perspiration and the formation of protective scabs. Keep it clean and bandaged. If it is a stubborn case, flush your blood with S. S. S. This famous blood purifier works wonders. And you can easily give your blood a good, thorough cleansing by using S. S. S. There is no need for anyone to be dependent over the illness of blood impurities. No matter how badly they attack the system or how unsightly becomes the skin, just remember there is one ingredient in S. S. S. that so stimulates the cellular tissues throughout the body that each selects its own essential nutriment from the blood.

Do not fail to get a bottle of S. S. S. today. If your abscess is of such a nature that you would like to consult a specialist, write to the medical department, The Swift Specific Co., 214 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Beware of any attempt to sell you something else for the blood. Many people have been imposed upon by having some mineral mixture palmed off on them. Ask for S. S. S. and insist that S. S. S. is what you propose to get.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. ## ASK REV. C. A. CARRIEL TO ORGANIZE CHURCH IN RIO JANEIRO

Committee of Business Men Seek His Leadership in Launching Interdenominational Body—Young Minister Feels Duty Holds Him to Mackenzie College for Present.

Recent letters from Rev. C. A. Carriel who with his wife is engaged in college mission work in Brazil tell of recent flattering call sent to him by prominent business men of Rio Janeiro. While the new work affords many attractions the young and devoted minister feels that for the present his duty lies in Mackenzie college. The facts about this call and other things in the letters make them of general interest.

Rua Maria Antonia S. S.

Sao Paulo, S. A., Oct. 28, 1913.

Dear Mother:

Your letter written or rather finished in New York, just after Bess and Leshi had met you, came a few days ago. You can imagine how glad we were to hear from you in the home land, and I know with certainty that you had had a good voyage, though I really felt sure you would.

Not only have we been greatly encouraged over the turn for the better in the college, but I received a letter from Rio Janeiro Friday night which presents a fork in my road, and was the greatest stimulant I have received in many a day. The letter was from Mr. Manuel, director of the Y. M. C. A. in Rio Janeiro, written for a committee of twelve business men, asking me to come to Rio and organize an inter-denominational church for English and Americans.

Now I can see that decision in this matter determines all my future. Shall we continue in Mackenzie college, following the educational branch of mission work, or go to Rio and organize the said church, a work for which I have had more preparation, and whose broad basis and great possibilities greatly appeals to me?

To plant a model Evangelical church in the capital of this land, to show what Protestant Christianity is, to associate with some of the leading men of Rio who breathe a more broad minded atmosphere to which my lungs are more accustomed. The call was written in terms of personal affection and confidence which will buoy me up all my life. I have not yet answered.

Many things are involved. Have already talked with Mr. Kennedy of the M. E. mission here.

This morning Dr. MacLaren (temporarily president of Mackenzie college) congratulated me upon the call. I told him I would show him the letter and talk with him about it. That letter gives me a lever to learn something about the future plans for this college. I think now I will stay here. The college is in a crisis. Probably no man is available in Brazil to take our place, and it would take a man from the states two years to get the language and get into the situation. The work in the college if it can be satisfactorily arranged is a big opportunity. Moreover, this opportunity in Rio will probably remain open for me; and will be an avenue of escape, if the right kind of men are not sent to the college.

You can imagine the effect of such a call, of such confidence, coming after the year we have just passed through. I am going to talk with Dr. MacLaren tonight, and shall write later our decision. Our only desire is to find out whether the Lord's hand is in this call.

Just four more weeks of school, and then we are off for mission meeting in Florianopolis. Our plans for the summer vacation, which begins Nov. 28, are not quite settled. But I want to take a horse-back preaching tour in the interior, live in the open and enjoy the stimulus which comes from preaching to simple folk who want to hear.

With love to all,
Arthur.
On Sorocabana Railway,
November 1, 1913.

Dear Mother:

Am on the way to Castro, where I am to meet Lemington and Midkiff and decide about buying land for the new industrial school. There were just three of us in the sleeper yesterday—two railway officials and myself. I had a good long talk with one of them, and found him a lonely and lone American in a foreign land, who like many others, wanted to talk about the deeper things in life. He was glad when I suggested that we have prayers together.

There is a great improvement in this railway. The new manager is an American from Mexico, is a Presbyterian. The table in his office is nicely covered and has just the Bible on it. This shows where he stands and indicates the new spirit of this road. He is a very strong man, was very cordial when I met him at the Roosevelt reception.

Paranaqua, Panama, Dec. 1, 1913.

Dear Mother:

We had a delightful time at mission meeting. They approved my work and sent a resolution to the board. I am on my way now with Midkiff to buy a farm for the school, which is called "The Christian Institute of the Practical Arts." Midkiff is to be the president. Florianopolis is an old city, the capital of Santa Catharina and situated on an island just off the coast. Mr. Sallee is the missionary here. His back yard is on the sea shore and his study is a room built on the beach. S. Catharina is the state of German colonists, and the Brazilians speak German. I visited the Normal school and was interested in their catalogue. Their language work is three years of Portuguese and German and one year of French. The morning after I had finished type writing the minutes and sent them off to the board in New York, Salley and I rode off for a horse back trip, and soon we came to the Ferry. The "do it now" of the Yankee is substituted by "patiencia" (have patience) by the Brazilian. On reaching the ferry we sent word by two different canoes that we wanted to cross; after an hour the ferry for passengers arrived, and after waiting nearly an hour longer the boat for the horses. Then we started along the coast. The people are very ignorant and poor. Their yellow complexion (old of intermittent fever and malaria). The houses were made of a bamboo lattice filled in with clay and the grass roofs were covered with banana leaves. In the midst of tropical fruits and with fine sea fish abundant, life is easy and lazy. Wants are few, habits simple and money scarce. No one is ever in a hurry, and cannot understand why anyone should be. After an hour and half we came to a village, where we received a hearty welcome and a good lunch in the home of a "believer." Again we pushed on, following the road over hills, across rivers and valleys. Few plantations were seen and no rude sounds of industry interrupted the silence, broken only by the songs of strange birds and our horses' feet. We were traveling through the serra of the coast. About three in the afternoon we stopped at a "hotel" kept by an old German. He was talkative and interesting. As a sailor boy he had roamed over the world. He spoke some English, had been in Baltimore, and saw the battle of the Monitor and the Merrimac. After fifty years in Brazil he called himself a Brazilian. They are Protestants and his wife is a Bible student. While Sallee bridled the horses, I talked with him about religion. He seemed willing to have services in his house and offered to invite in others. This is the way preaching points are established which are the forerunners of the church.

We arrived at Lijecas at seven p. m. and received a Brazil welcome in the home of Alexander Gomes. I was a little tired after the day's journey, but a cup of coffee and the gospel soon revived my spirits, and I enjoyed preaching to the little group invited.

The political boss and other prominent men of the village were there. The next morning Senor Gomes drove us through the village which extends four miles along the river to the sea.

Our ponchos and shoes were cleaned and every courtesy shown us. It is often touching to see the gratitude of our people to the missionaries. This is an unusual family. They raise silk worms and dye the silk and make fancy work.

After breakfast at ten a. m. we set out on the long ride home, over the hills and down the coast visiting other "believers" on the way.

The horses were so tired that we left them and rode the last ten miles in a carriage. The two days ride was a good tonic for me. To be a pioneer in the new gospel epoch which is coming to Brazil is a great privilege. With love to all,
Your son,
Arthur Carriel.

WAVELY DEFEATS CHAPIN

The Chapin high school basketball team went to Waverly Friday night where they were defeated by the high school team of that place by a score of 29 to 12. The game was played in Harris hall which is one of the best basketball halls in the county. The line up was as follows:

Antrobis	..... f	.....	Shepherd
Mathers	..... f	.....	Spainhower
Anderson	.....	.....
Briggs	..... c	.....	Luttrell
Perbix	..... g	.....	Swift
Anderson	..... g	.....	Wyle
Mathers	.....	.....

The game was a hard fought one and Chapin's apparent poor showing was due to the fact that they were not used to so much floor space. A return game will be played at Chapin January 30.

The chief point winners for Waverly was Spainhower, while Antrobis scored the most point for Chapin. The officials were: Referee, Wilbur Williams; umpire, Mr. Campbell; scorer, Breeding and timekeeper, Wyle.

MORTALITY RECORD FOR YEAR OF 1913

PNEUMONIA HEADS LIST OF DEATHS FOR 12 MONTHS.

Statistics Compiled For City By Health Warden, Dr. Allen M. King—Non-Resident List of Deaths is Large.

Mortality statistics for the year 1913, as compiled by Dr. A. M. King, health warden, present some interesting figures. In the diseases enumerated, more people died from pneumonia than any other, the number being 62. Tuberculosis is next with 33 and apoplexy took away 29. The deaths from diabetes, senile dementia, paralysis, heart trouble is also large. During the past year there have been 433 deaths and of this number 185 were not residents of Jacksonville, 33 being out of the city and 152 which died at the Jacksonville State hospital. In 1912 there were 401 deaths, of which number 241 resided in the city, which shows that there were seven more deaths in the city last year than the year before. Of the contagious diseases reported there were more cases of measles, the total being 113, with fifteen cases of diphtheria and 20 cases of scarlet fever. While there were only 18 cases of mumps reported it is believed that the number is much larger.

While the figures given are for last year, the year 1914 is starting off with a large number of sick people in the city than has been for some time and the death rate has been large too. There has been a large number of diphtheria cases, tonsillitis, erysipelas. Dr. King believes that people who have the contagious diseases should use every precaution to prevent their spread and that in a number of instances the law is very strict in respect to quarantine and of reporting contagious diseases to him or the family physician. Consultation of physicians when a person is in doubt as to the nature of a malady, will go a long way toward checking the spread of contagious diseases.

FOUR-CYLINDER CARS PREDOMINANT AT NEW YORK AUTO SHOWS.

A careful tabulation of the types of cars exhibited at the recent New York automobile shows affords some interesting comparisons.

The exhibition of American cars was held at Grand Central Palace and foreign cars at the Hotel Astor. At the Palace, 75 makers exhibited gasoline cars while 12 foreign makers were exhibited at the importers' show.

At the Palace, 46 makers showed six-cylinder cars while 58 makers showed four-cylinder cars.

At the foreign display, the entire 12 exhibitors showed four-cylinder models, while but one of these makers also showed a six-cylinder type.

At the Palace there was a total of 104 six-cylinder cars shown and 132 four-cylinder cars. At the foreign show there were three six-cylinder cars and 45 four-cylinder cars on the floors.

At the Palace, 17 makers showed six cylinder types exclusively, while 29 makers showed four exclusively.

At the foreign show, 11 of the 12 exhibitors showed four-cylinder cars exclusively, while the other one exhibitor showed both sixes and fours. One foreign maker showed also an eight.

QUARANTINE RULES MUST BE OBSERVED

Dr. Allen M. King, City Health Warden, gave out an official notice Saturday, that hereafter, he will enforce strictly the regulations relative to quarantine laws. Recently some have been very slack about the matter, and as there is a law against breaking quarantine rules, the warden will see to it that persons guilty are prosecuted. "Every time there is a suspicious case," said the warden, "the family physician should be consulted or the health warden notified, in order that the case might be diagnosed, and families should not try to diagnose cases where there is any possibility of spreading a severe contagious disease." The quarantine rules take in the following diseases: small pox, erysipelas, scarlet fever, mumps, measles, whooping cough, typhoid fever, diphtheria, infantile paralysis and chicken pox.

Dr. William P. Coughlin, professor of surgery in the St. Louis University medical school, is a guest today at the Wylder home on North Church street.

MR. KENNY TELLS ABOUT OPPOSITION TO APPOINTMENT.

James Kenny, a well known Morgan county citizen has addressed the following communication to the Journal. Mr. Kenny has served two terms as road commissioner and is one of the leaders in his community in the building of the Farmers' elevator. He says:

"Some after effects of the recent local option election are apparent in the action of the county board in forwarding the name of Mr. Baldwin to the state commission for examination under the Tice Road law. This bill requires the commissioners to select not less than three or more than five names and to send the list to the highway commission who shall select the best man for the place of county highway commissioner by competitive examination. When the names were submitted no one was chosen. Under these circumstances, says the Tice law, a second list of candidates must be sent to the state commission. Right here is where the effects of the local option campaign came in. As is well known I was appointed by the highway commission to repair certain roads in the east end of the county to enable the farmers in that locality to erect an elevator. I did this work to the satisfaction of everyone and my appointment was approved by the State Highway commission. When it came to sending another list of four or five names as the law provides the commissioners simply sent in the name of Mr. Baldwin. I asked to have my name sent but one of the commissioners advised against it as I had favored local option in the recent election. Another trumped up some excuse against me, leaving a majority of the commissioners against my nomination.

Mr. Kenny is favorably known in his community. At one time he came within a few votes of receiving the Democratic nomination for county commissioner. He served two terms as road commissioner and is one of the leaders in his community in the building of the farmers' elevator.
